INSTITUTIONAL PRIVACY POLICY & LICENSE

1. OWNERSHIP & INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

This software platform, encompassing all source code, database schemas, and the 'Steel Pulse' design engine, is the exclusive property of the Lead Developer / Architect. By using this software, you acknowledge that you are acquiring a non-exclusive usage license only. You do not own the code. Redistribution or reselling is strictly prohibited.

2. SCOPE OF LICENSE

- The license is valid for one (1) primary installation.
- You may not sub-license or distribute copies of this system to third parties.

3. INFRASTRUCTURE & HOSTING

The Architect provides the software package only. The Licensee (Customer) is solely responsible for all external infrastructure costs:

Service Type	Responsibility
Cloud Hosting	Monthly/Annual Server Costs (AWS/Azure)
Domain Services	Business URL Registration & Renewal
SSL & Backups	Security Certificates & Data Maintenance

4. DATA PRIVACY & SECURITY

This system is engineered for data sovereignty. All staff records, financial statements, and hardware IDs are stored on your private server.

- Hardware Guard: Collects unique hardware fingerprints solely for security verification.
- Audit Logs: Every action is logged for internal transparency within your instance.
- Zero-Access Policy: The Developer/Architect holds zero access to your live database, staff records, or financial statements once the system is deployed on your infrastructure.

5. LIABILITY LIMITATIONS

The software is provided 'as-is'. The Architect is not liable for losses caused by improper server configuration or hardware failure.

This is a system-generated executive brief. Data is verified in real-time.
